

Philip Robinson

Philip, a graduate of Downingtown West High School, took three years of high school photography and immediately developed a love for the medium. His senior high school project was a journal of photographs, both color and black and white, on "Historical Sights, In and Around Downingtown". His love of snowboarding can often be found in his photographs.

Besides photography, Philip excelled in woodworking shop in high school. His last work, a garden bench, is now proudly displayed at his parents' home.

Philip will be attending Elizabethtown College in the Fall of 2006, majoring in Engineering. He plans on playing college lacrosse and, of course, taking a lot of pictures along the way.

Philip has contributed to the following Healing Art Works, Inc. Projects:
